Dermoscopy for Absolute Beginners

Dermoscopy for absolute beginners is aimed at people who have either:

- Never had a dermatoscope but are planning on getting one and want to know how to use it before they get one
- Have a dermatoscope but don’t use it because they don’t know how
- Have a dermatoscope in the practice but have not had much (or any) training
- Have been using a dermatoscope a bit, and would like to feel more confident with the basics as a refresher

Dermoscopy for Absolute Beginners

The course is delivered to a large group of people, but offers plenty of opportunity for interaction and a short practical session. If you have a dermatoscope, please bring it with you (and camera if you use one) – there won’t be any patients, but you will be practising on each other. If you don’t have a dermatoscope, don’t worry, we should be able to manage one between two or three and one of our sponsoring companies will have a stand with several different types of dermatoscope for you to view with no obligation to purchase.

Please note that this course is NOT aiming to make you competent to diagnose early melanomas or difficult atypical naevi or anything too challenging. It is the real basics, including how to use a dermatoscope, keeping it clean, taking good pictures through it, and concentrating on being able to tell the difference between common benign lesions such as seborrhoeic keratoses, BCCs, and melanomas.
